Document shows Coalition-Labor in cahoots with WHO to install digital health dictatorship

SEP 23 Posted by Editor, cairnsnews

Melbourne freedom fighters pictured at the Shrine of Remembrance on Wednesday. The protesters retreated to the site after Dan Andrews' fascist thugs put on a show of militarized force in the city.

By TONY MOBILIFONITIS

SCOTT Morrison and Dan Andrews are hypocrites of the highest order in condemning a protest at the Melbourne Shrine of Remembrance on September 22nd, because both are involved in a plan of foreign powers to impose a digital dictatorship on the Australian people.

Soldiers honoured at the Shrine are frequently referred to as those who paid the ultimate price for our freedoms, but these two traitors are deceitfully and deliberately engaged in the destruction of the very freedoms those Australian soldiers fought for. That is a self-evident and provable accusation.

Andrews and Morrison and their cabal of premiers and CHO lackeys are lying to the Australian people about their so-called COVID response. It is not a response, it is Australia's National Action Plan for Health Security – a written agreement to act in cahoots with the World Health Organisation and other parties to impose a system of digital control on Australians.

Morrison and Andrews share an overtly masonic handshake. The two have colluded in the destruction of Australian jobs, freedoms and family and social life.

It also comes under the Coalition-Labor backed National Digital Health Strategy, which is a rejigged version of Bill Gates' plan to vaccinate and digitally track the entire human race.

The same idea is also foreshadowed by the Rockefeller Foundation-Global Business Network's 2010 report Scenarios for the Future of Technology and International Development.

The view from the Shrine as hundreds of cops line up with batons, tear gas and rubber bullets that they fired at the protesters backs as they retreated.

Morrison's Liberal-National Coalition and Andrews' Australian Labor Party are complicit in this treachery, which violates Australian law at Constitutional, federal and state levels.

Their “vaccinate or else” policy also violates the internationally recognised Nuremberg Code.

Wednesday's display by Andrews' Gestapo Chief Patton and his armed goons in Melbourne shows the two largest states in Australia by population are running with the Lockstep scenario.

Patton and Andrews' paramilitary thugs might well have driven freedom protesters off the Shrine of Remembrance, but they are losing the war. On Wednesday the public witnessed the robocops in black armour shooting rubber bullets at the backs of protesters at the Shrine for merely standing up for their basic rights to say no to forced medical treatment and to earn a living.

The Australian Government Department of Health in collaboration with the Department of Agriculture and Water Resources, state and territory governments and other partners

Within that report is the infamous Lockstep Scenario, which proposes that change to a new international system of technology could be driven by totalitarian methods – the very same neo-fascist methods that Victorian and NSW police have been using against Australians who want no part in this system, and have every right to say so.

They also saw Patton's robocops driving armoured military vehicles, including a Bearcat, through Melbourne streets, trying to shut down the demonstration with brute force and intimidation.

Andrews and his media parrots would have you believe people want vaccines, yet it takes this show of force to supposedly convince the public that we all need them.

And then on cue, after the protesters were driven off the Shrine, the media pounced upon the chief executive of the Shrine Dean Lee. That's right, they have a CEO for a shrine because it too has turned corporate. Lee mouthed off about the “desecration” of his “sacred place”, apparently oblivious to the fact that the soldiers honoured there fought against fascism, not for it.

But Victoria is the ultimate fascist, corporate state, run by CEOs who work hand in glove with Andrews and his Labor Party Socialist Left cronies. Another such CEO is Danni Sutherland, from the Urban Development Institute of Australia.

Sutherland and her ilk reside in plush offices in grandiose organisations who claim to be working for the benefit of the wider industry, but in reality are just another arm of the corporatocracy ruling Australia on behalf of the rising global corporatocracy. These organisations leech off the proceeds of building companies that earn income in the real economy and the trades, laborers and contractors.

Earlier in the week Sutherland came out on TV channels, as her PR team would have organised, giving advice to CFMEU. “We need to get our COVID safety up to scratch,” she said, referring to “COVID safety checks” on building sites where workers – shock horror – were wearing masks that did not have their faces properly covered.

The red-headed femocrat even had medical advice for the public: “Get vaccinated”.

Defence Legislation Amendment (Enhancement of Defence Force response to Emergencies) Bill, 2020

The following article was written prior to the Bill, which allegedly enable use of foreign troops or foreign police in Australian “emergencies” has in now in force. Parliament of Aust website: Defence Legislation Amendment \(Enhancement of Defence Force Response to Emergencies\) Act 2020

Quotes from sources:

“...Further the legislation includes the use of foreign military forces and foreign police to assist in “emergencies”.

Surely we Australians are, with appropriate resources and organisation, capable of addressing emergencies without the need for foreign troops or foreign police. And we certainly don't want these foreign forces confronting and suppressing legitimate protest actions by Australian citizens.

In addition the legislation provide immunity from civil or criminal prosecution to the defence forces including foreign military, for their actions in these “emergencies”.

<https://johnmenadue.com/a-bill-to-enable-use-of-foreign-troops-or-foreign-police-in-australian-emergencies/>

The “grossly inadequate” Human Rights Statement “does not address public rights that may well be infringed under these provisions.” The proposed immunities would also extend to “foreign military and police forces”, suggesting more than a cheerful nod of approval to those nuclear armed allies across the pond. “The use of a foreign army or militarised police force should not be allowed at all, and certainly not without the safeguard of citizens' rights of access to courts.”

Under the cover of stealth and reliable apathy, powers have been vested in Australia's military and ministerial authorities with scant debate and even less scrutiny. As law academic Michael Head points out with noticeable alarm, powers calling out the Australian Defence Force to deal with, for instance, “domestic violence”, or likely dangers to “declared infrastructure” are left undefined. Vagueness bedevils the legislation, passed ostensibly to protect the populace against terrorist attacks. “Once deployed, military personnel can exercise extraordinary powers over civilians, overturning basic legal and democratic rights.”

<https://www.scoop.co.nz/stories/HL2009/S00105/dangerous-streamlining-emergencies-militarisation-and-civil-liberties.htm>

The government insists that the bill does not authorise armed force against civilians, but there is no such protection in the legislation.

<https://www.wsws.org/en/articles/2020/10/16/mili-o16.html>

I BELIEVE there are very worrying implications in a bill being considered in federal parliament. It is called the Defence Legislation Amendment (Enhancement of Defence Force response to Emergencies) Bill, 2020. It enables the ADF and Reserves to be used in emergencies, but “emergencies” is undefined.

Bushfire assistance is one emergency which might be justified but could certain so-called disruptive industrial actions or disruptive mass climate change protests be considered emergencies? These are legitimate actions in our democracy, and I believe being confronted or suppressed by the defence forces or reserves would not be a legitimate use of these forces in a healthy democracy.

Further, the legislation includes the use of foreign military forces and foreign police to assist in emergencies. Surely we Australians are, with appropriate resources and organisation, capable of addressing emergencies without the need for foreign troops or foreign police? We certainly don't want these foreign forces confronting and suppressing legitimate protest actions by Australian citizens.

Our political representatives in federal parliament should be urged to halt this legislation until it is closely examined by civil rights and constitutional law experts to ensure our civil and democratic rights are not under threat or our sovereignty compromised by this legislation.

It's about setting up a hub within our national borders to kickstart the next step towards the overall goals of complete implementation of the UN Agenda 2030 doctrine.

Max Igan: (above) Hi folks! I just had a conversation with a funeral director from Milton Keynes in the UK. I was going to run the conversation like an interview. And then I decided, no, I'll just let him speak. And then after that I was going to edit it down and create some sort of a presentable clip for you. But after listening to it back, I thought:

“No. I'm just going to play the entire conversation in its raw form, warts and all. And let you hear what this man had to say.”

And I think it's extremely important folks. This man has some compelling information that everybody needs to hear.

You're a funeral director, hey John? Yeah?

<https://www.mkffs.co.uk/>

John O'Looney's direct email:

john@mkffs.co.uk

John O'Looney: I am indeed, bud. My name's John. I'm a funeral director of 15 years. I'm based in the UK, in a place called Milton Keynes, which is kind of 40 miles, ...

Max Igan: Lovely place.

John O'Looney: Yeah.

Max Igan: I've been there.

Spoken at Horwood House

[image below] in Milton Keynes

John O'Looney: Okay! Small world! Small world, my friend.

So, I've been a funeral director for about 15 years now. ...

Max Igan: So what are you seeing now, being a funeral director? How are you seeing things over the last couple of years, mate? Did you see a pandemic last year?

John O'Looney: So, let me start from the beginning. ...

(Intro summary to full transcript)

John saw an inflatable pandemic mortuary occupying the Viewing Room on the Northampton hospital mortuary and in response to his question why it was there was told "there was something really horrible coming. And this is why".

Max Igan: So they already had this temporary morgue and knew something terrible was coming, in November 2019?

John O'Looney: Yeah. That I saw ... firsthand. ...

Max Igan: Hmm, okay.

John O'Looney: So, the news broke, just after Christmas. And we were all told about a Chinese lab and the Wuhan wet market, that been there for hundreds of years, without an issue, that suddenly was an issue.

The hysteria was mounting ... And it wasn't long into 2020, before I was contacted by the local BBC.

The BBC came. They bought a cameraman and a lady that spoke to me. They briefed me very intently on what they were going to ask me and told me the answers they wanted. And they asked me to dress up in full PPE. [link to hype article] <https://www.bbc.com/news/uk-england-beds-bucks-herts-52193244>

... And, we suddenly had an announcement on the TV, from government, that they were going to try and protect the most vulnerable in care homes. And that these care homes would be the places that were hit the hardest. Which I kind of at the time thought was really strange. Because I don't understand how a virus can attack a specific building! So, I got called every night for three weeks to care homes. And this was at a time when Matt Hancock, who's since been dismissed from government, kind of, had transferred all of the elderly in hospitals into care homes. He'd been very careful to label them all as Covid. And he put them into care homes.

And I've since found out that at the exact same time there was a thousand percent increase in the amount of Midazolam sedative purchased at that time. And there's an extensive paper trail that documents that very clearly.

So, I suspect that thousands of people were killed, euthanized, in these care homes, using Midazolam. (To boost Covid hype numbers?)
