Russia: Putin signs law banning all LGBT expression in public life

Tuesday, December 6, 2022

by Karen Faulkner,

Worthy News Correspondent

(Worthy News) – Russian President Vladimir Putin on Monday signed a law that effectively prohibits any public expression of LGBT behavior or lifestyle in Russia, Reuters reports.

The new legislation expands on an existing 2013 ‘LGBT propaganda’ law which prohibits the “demonstration” of homosexual conduct to minors. Gay pride marches had already been banned under the existing law. The European Court of Human Rights ruled in 2017 that the 2013 law is discriminatory and violates the European Convention on Human Rights.

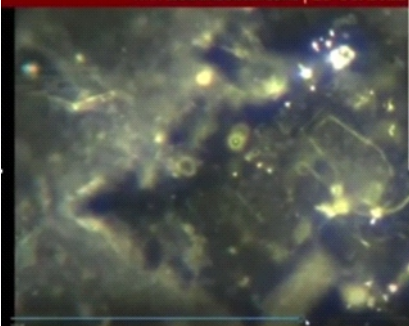

Under Putin’s new law, all “LGBT propaganda,” including any action or spreading of information that seeks to promote homosexuality in public, online, or in films, books, or advertising to anyone of any age, is prohibited, Reuters said.

Violation of the law can result in heavy fines of up to 400,000 rubles (US$6,370) for “LGBT propaganda” and up to 200,000 rubles (US$3,185) for “demonstrations of LGBT and information that encourages a change of gender among teenagers.” The fines are increased (US$80,000) and 4 million rubles (US$64,000), respectively, for legal entities.

Rights groups have said laws such as this aim to drive lesbians, gay men, bisexuals, and transgender people out of public life altogether, Reuters reports. Tanya Lokshina, associate Europe and Central Asia director at Human Rights Watch said in a statement: “The 2013 ‘gay propaganda’ law was an unabashed example of political homophobia, and the new draft legislation amplifies that in broader and harsher ways.”

These nano-structures are being assembled by micro-machinery / nano-construction.

We need to stop ALL vaccines until we understand what is going on.

Matt Taylor (electrical engineer) has shown these structures "expanding" in the presence of electromagnetic fields, and "contracting" when EMF is removed.

We also need to STOP all 4G, 5G and wireless (WIFI), which seems to be driving this

New Zealand Hospital Medically Kidnaps Baby Because Parents Wanted Unvaccinated Blood Supplied by Their Donors

December 7, 2022 12:56 pm

A court decision in New Zealand today allowed a hospital to take custody of a 4-month-old baby simply because the parents wanted the hospital to use blood from their own donors who have not been vaccinated with mRNA shots for a heart surgery procedure.

Former TV news reporter, Liz Gunn, who is with FreeNZ Media and has apparently been the only one giving the parents' side of the story, gave a brief update shortly after the court's decision. She later posted a longer video with an interview with Sue Grey, the parents' attorney. I have been covering "medical kidnapping" for over a decade now, and this story is a frightening warning about the world we now live in post COVID-19, where science and facts are meaningless, and being on the correct side of a political issue is all that matters. So called "courts of law" all over the world now have ruled in favor of medical authorities, not based on evidence and facts, but based on political correctness. We have seen this in the U.S. where even the Supreme Court has upheld rulings on vaccine mandates, such as the one in New York City, where sports players and entertainers were exempt from COVID-19 vaccine mandates, but city employees, such as police, firemen, sanitation workers, etc., were not exempted. [Video of police in home <https://t.me/OurVoicesMatter/1299> ]

These parents did not refuse medical treatment nor their doctors' advice, according to their own testimony, but simply wanted to have unvaccinated blood supplied by approved pediatric donors. The doctors disagreed, saying that vaccinated blood is perfectly safe, and in the end the parents apparently lost custody of their baby simply because they were labeled as "conspiracy theorists" and dared to disagree with the doctors. Hospital Kidnaps Baby because Parents Wanted Unvaxed Blood Supplied by Donors

Alleged Ayers Rock 'traditional owners' are nothing but trespassers

From the speech by Mr. Peter English, given at the launching of his book – Land Rights – Birth Rights, now available from all League bookshops, Price: “$16.00 posted. The unfortunate part about all this is that the antecedents of some members of the group now claiming Ayers Rock as their former tribal territory did not begin to move in and take over the region until AFTER the true traditional owners, (the Jankuntatjara) had voluntarily vacated the area some fifty or more years ago, and secondly, the party now being planned, which is estimated to cost the Treasury $250,000, may never be held.

“Recent anthropological research has uncovered a wealth of evidence dating back to 1936 which proves beyond any doubt that the majority of those aborigines now officially recognised as 'the traditional owners of the Ayers Rock region' and accepted by the Federal Government as “The Mititjulu Community” are, in the eyes of the few remaining descendants of the true traditional owners, nothing but trespassers on tribal territory that never at any time, even in the recent past, belonged to the antecedents of those now claiming 'traditional ownership' of the Ayers Rock region.

“My understanding of the present position in Central Australia (and my advice is as recent as two weeks ago) is that the remaining few descendants of the relatively small tribal group whose former territory once included Ayers Rock and the Olgas are violently opposed to the Federal Government's proposal to hand their traditional homelands over to anyone, least of all to those they now look upon as 'trespassers'.

Traditional Owners Want N.T. to Control Ayers Rock; “I understand that these very old men insist that the existing status quo be preserved where control of the Ayers Rock – Mt. Olga National Park is a matter for the Government of the Northern Territory which they themselves regard as the present lawful custodian of what was once only one of a number of totemic localities in their region and was outranked by far many other sites...”
