Project Looking Glass, Fate, & Synchronicity

Anonymous 01/15/20 (Wed)

To understand project looking glass, you have to understand fate and synchronicity.

So let's start with Trump:

Dates and Stuff

Donald Trump D.O.B: 14/06/1946

Donald Trump First Day of Presidency:
21/01/2017

Day Israel became a Nation:
14/05/1948

Donald Trump electors who voted for him: 304 (with 2 defectors)

Hillary Clinton electors who votes for her: 227 (with 5 defectors)

Donald Trump Sevens

1. Donald Trump was born 700 days before Israel was a nation again
2. Which would mean when Israel was 77 days old, Trump would have been 777 days old.
3. Which would also mean Israel's 70th Birthday will come 700 days after Trumps 70th Birthday.
4. Trump won by 304 electors, Hillary lost with 227 electors.
 $304 - 227 = 77$
5. Also  $3+0+4 = 7$
6. Trump was 70 Years, 7 Months, and 7 days old on his first day of presidency.
7. Trump was president in the Hebrew Year of 5777 (which started on October 3rd 2016).

UK Court of Appeal: Sharia Marriages Not Valid Under English Law

by Soeren Kern February 19, 2020
Gatestone Institute <https://tinyurl.com/vtzamq6>

- "We sought to inform the Court of Appeal that many minority women, especially Muslim women, are deceived or coerced by abusive husbands into only having a religious marriage, which deprives them of their financial rights when the marriage breaks down...." — Southall Black Sisters, an advocacy group for South Asian women, February 14, 2020.

- In February 2018, an independent review of the application of Sharia law in England and Wales...recommended changes to the Marriage Act 1949 and the Matrimonial Causes Act 1973 that would require Muslims to conduct civil marriages before or at the same time as the nikah ceremony. This would bring Islamic marriage in line with Christian and Jewish marriage in the eyes of British law.

- "The Assembly is concerned that the rulings of the Sharia councils clearly discriminate against women in divorce and inheritance cases." — Council of Europe (COE), January 2019.

- As of now, neither the British government, nor the British Parliament has introduced legislation that would require Muslims to conduct civil marriages before or at the same time as the nikah ceremony...[but] The court's decision effectively reaffirms the principle that immigrants who settle in Britain must conform to British law, rather than the other way around.

*The Court of Appeal, the second-highest court in England and Wales after the Supreme Court, has ruled that the Islamic marriage contract, known as nikah in Arabic, is not valid under English law. The Court of Appeal, the second-highest court in England and Wales after the Supreme Court, has ruled that the Islamic marriage contract, known as nikah in Arabic, is not valid under English law.

The landmark ruling has far-reaching implications. On the one hand, the decision strikes a blow against efforts to enshrine this aspect of Sharia law into the British legal system. On the other hand, it leaves potentially thousands of Muslim women in Britain without legal recourse in the case of divorce.

The case involves an estranged couple, Nasreen Akhter and Mohammed Shabaz Khan, both of Pakistani heritage, who took part in a nikah ceremony officiated by an imam in front of 150 guests at a restaurant in London in December 1998.

In November 2016, Akhter, a 48-year-old attorney, filed for a divorce, allegedly because Khan wanted to take a second wife. Khan, a 48-year-old property developer, tried to block Akhter's divorce application on the basis that they were not legally married under English law. Khan said that they were married "under Sharia law only" and sued to prevent Akhtar from claiming money or property from him in the same way a legally married spouse could.

Akhter said that the couple, who have four children, intended to follow the nikah with a civil marriage ceremony that would be compliant with English law. No civil ceremony ever took place, however, because, according to Akhter, Khan refused.

On July 31, 2018, the London-based Family Division of the High Court ruled that the nikah fell within the scope of the Matrimonial Causes

Act 1973, which establishes three categories of marriage: valid, void and non-marriage. Valid marriages may be ended by a decree of divorce; void marriages may be ended by a decree of nullity; non-marriages cannot be legally ended because legally the marriage never existed.

The high court determined that the Akhter-Khan marriage was a "void marriage" because it had been "entered into in disregard of certain requirements as to the formation of marriage." It ruled that Akhtar was therefore entitled to a "decree of nullity of marriage."

The Attorney General, on behalf of the British government, filed an appeal on the basis that it was wrong to recognize the marriage as being "void" rather than a "non-marriage."

On February 14, 2020, the London-based Court of Appeals overturned the High Court's decision and ruled that nikah marriages are "non-marriages" within the scope of English law.

Reader comments include:

But if these 'marriages' were to be regarded on appeal as legal, how many would be bigamist, which would be illegal in British Law? Or will it be one rule for Muslims and one for everyone else?

SOME GOOD NEWS FOR AUSSIE JULIAN ASSANGE

Worthy News - 19 February 2020

Lawyers for WikiLeaks' Assange say Trump offered pardon if he denied Russia leak. Claim made at hearing before Monday's formal start of Washington's extradition request on espionage charges; if found guilty, Assange faces up to 175 years in jail.

Malachi analysis: That won't happen until enough of the public understands the Russian hack story is a MSM Fake News hoax. Seth Rich (RIP) nicked the DNC data that cost them his life. Assange's charges could be legitimately dropped. He could well be home for Christmas.

LOCUST PLAGUE BEGINS TO SPREAD FROM AFRICA TO MIDDLE EAST AND ASIA

Worthy News, Tues, Feb 18, 2020.
<https://tinyurl.com/yx48dq3n>

Locusts swarming across eastern Africa have now made their way out of the continent, into the Middle East, and as far as India, Pakistan, and China, though authorities in east Asia say they are not yet worried about the locusts coming further inland.

The locusts have been devouring crops in an area of eastern Africa that encompasses Sudan, Ethiopia, Kenya, Uganda, Somalia, South Sudan, and Eritrea, able to consume an amount of crops in a single day that would feed 35,000 people in places where food shortages are already acute, experts say. "Off the coast of Yemen and Oman there is a desert region with no water and last year they got hit by torrential rainfall then had two cyclones hit that very region," CBN foreign correspondent George Thomas said of the swarm's move eastward. "This is very unusual and those conditions gave rise and allowed these locusts to multiply by the millions."

Iran has also been hit, according to new reports surfacing from that country, meaning the locusts have traversed an area stretching across much of the southern half of the ancient Silk Road trade route. The areas across Africa, the Middle East, and Asia that have been affected by the locust swarm so far include seven of the top ten worst countries for Christian persecution, according to Open Doors USA's 2020 World Watch
