Dozens of Aussie doctors defecting as Covid vax narrative crumbles

AUG 25 Posted by Editor, cairnsnews By TONY MOBILIFONITIS

WHEN long-serving and highly respected surgeon and reproductive specialist Dr Luke McLinden refused an mRNA vaccination last November, the medical establishment pounced and had him terminated from his position at the Mater Hospital in Brisbane.

But with dozens of doctors now “coming out” against the Covid narrative, so-called medical authorities in organisations like Ahpra (Australian Health Practitioners Regulation Authority), will have big problems on their hands.

Dr McLinden recently spoke at length with Graham Hood on his Club Grubbery on social media. Hood said “dozens of doctors” were now approaching his group. McLinden had sounded warnings to pregnant women about potential miscarriages following mRNA shots. His personal research revealed pregnancy losses in up to 74% of the vaccinated women in his practice – 4.6 to 14.8 times higher than typical normal rates of loss which range from 5 to 16%.

Dr McLinden says pregnant women were omitted from the vaccine trial process. “On the whole the vaccine was not investigated in such a way that would allow us, hand on heart, to say 'yes, this is fine we can vaccinate pregnant women or women of reproductive age, even.” A doctor colleague had lodged FOI requests tried three times without success to get relevant data on ovary histology from medical authorities.

“So that only tells me one thing – they're either don't have any information at all, which is culpable, or that they do have the information and don't want us to know, and that's still sitting with the Information Commissioner. So, the challenge now is how do I tell my patients 'it's fine'?”

Despite this, the College of Gynaecologists and Obstetricians came out in August 2021 with a statement saying vaccination during pregnancy was fine at all stages. But one paper provided as back-up had no references for data and another paper was seriously flawed and was admitted as such by the CDC.

The RMIT-ABC “fact checking” service predictably found medical authorities who simply denied there was any danger to pregnant women from mRNA vaccines. But there was no reference to fact-checking by the “fact checkers” of the issues raised by Dr McLinden and his colleagues.

The Australian and New Zealand medical/public health establishment, who rule over more than represent doctors and others, simply could not countenance the “mortal sin” of a leading doctor refusing the vaccine and performing his duty of care and warning against possible dangers of miscarriage from Covid-19 vaccines.

Dr McLinden had good reason to turn down the mandated shots. He worked out, from medical statistics, he only had a one in 287,000 chance of dying from Covid with moderate community spread. He also had a heart condition and knew from emerging reports that myocarditis was a real risk from mRNA vaccinations.

Despite these reasonable, science-based objections, the vice-grip of “correct thinking” and “approved narrative” of his medical masters prevailed. Not even warnings from the likes of The Lancet, one of the leading global medical journals, about the “spin” involved in vaccine safety and efficacy reporting, could influence the crowd of “yes men”. Dr McLinden meanwhile, is taking his dismissal to the High Court of Australia.

And now the public health establishment's “mRNA vaccines are safe and effective” narrative is falling in a heap with government statistics in the UK and Australia showing the hospitalization rates and Covid deaths soaring among the multiple-vaccinated who make up the vast majority of the population.

TrialSite News reported that in the first 14 weeks of 2022, the number of fatalities related to Covid were double that for the entire pandemic years of 2020 and 2021. And again, the public health establishment and their media sycophants simply ignored the statistics.

And then, in recent days and weeks, came what should be the two final death blows to the narrative: the US CDC's total backflip on its Covid guidance, giving vaccinated and unvaccinated people the same status and rejecting the very quarantining they earlier assured us was a vital public health measure while the man overseeing all of this, Dr Anthony Fauci, announced his resignation.

Media reported the resignation almost as a “ho hum” news story and conveniently forgot the controversies around his lies about gain of function research his organisations funded in Wuhan China and the likelihood of lawsuits coming his way. McLinden told Graham Hood the medical profession and public health authorities would have suffered much less distrust by the public if they had used some “M” for moderation instead of “M” for mandates in their approach to Covid treatment. Instead, they applied the “one size fits all solution” in the form of mRNA vaccines.... more <https://tinyurl.com/bdf9s3u2>

Australian governments face class action over draconian, illegal Covid powers

SERENE Teffaha's Melbourne-based human rights group AdvocateMe has teamed up with Maatouks Law Group to engage state and federal governments in a review of their response to the SARS-Cov-2 outbreak. The governments have until August 27th to respond constructively or face legal action.

Teffaha, under the AdvocateMe banner, has written an open letter of request to governments “to review (their) disproportionate response to SARS-COV-2.” The letter raises issues around the combined government response and should the governments not respond, legal action will be initiated. The full text of the open letter is available here. As Cairns News readers will know, the panic created around the virus led to governments making outrageous impositions on the population at large, such as Victoria's notorious lockdowns and the vaccine mandates

Complaints raised in the letter include:

- the inaccuracy and misuse of RT-PCR testing
- detaining individuals without evidence of infection
- banning anti-Covid therapeutics hydroxychloroquine and ivermectin
- inflating infection statistics by declaring any coronavirus detected a Covid-19 infection and conflating suspected cases with probable or confirmed cases
- DNA data mining by BGI subsidiary Forensic Genomics International of China
- diagnosing asymptomatic people as positive merely by close contact or by contact tracing

- ▷ recording deaths as 'from Covid-19' without reference to pre-existing conditions and based on mere suspicion of infection or contributing to death
- ▷ unlawfully mandated influenza and Covid-19 vaccines without evidence of their efficacy to reduce hospitalisations.

Teffaha, who had her law licence suspended by the Victorian Legal Services Board after she clashed with a chief magistrate and the legal establishment over alleged misbehavior, is continuing her battle for justice by providing advocacy, administrative services and collaborative support to Maatouks senior principal solicitor, Peter Maatouk.

“We have also reached out for the legal direction and advice from other solicitors, including the firm of Clemens Haskin Legal, who are dealing with the (Melbourne) Detention Towers Class Action that was filed earlier this year, and is still in play,” Teffaha states on her website.

The letter defends the role of the Biosecurity Act 2015, which was noted by many anti-Covid lockdown activists for the limits it placed on the use of downloadable Covid apps, in direct contradiction to state actions which attempted make phone apps mandatory for access to shops and various services.

AdvocateMe's letter also raises the very important issue of abuse of human rights by governments making blanket declarations assuming, without evidence, that everyone represents a “biosecurity risk” and therefore should be subject to all sorts of restrictions and impositions.

“We say that that Act strikes a fair balance between the competing needs to protect the public interest with the need to protect human rights. The Biosecurity Act 2015 is posited on a very important assumption and that people are healthy until they are shown to be a health risk,” the letter states.

“This means that all biosecurity security measures involving matters of quarantine including isolation, detention (including cross-border and returning travellers), treatment, vaccinations, obtaining bodily samples through testing and examinations, contact tracing and wearing clothing and equipment must not be required on any Australian resident without a proper assessment of their individual risk.”

The letter points to proper, lawful risk assessment involving demonstration of evidence that a person has the signs and symptoms of the listed human disease and/or has had direct physical contact or was in close proximity to another person who has the signs and symptoms of that disease...
