The ZPE-Plasma Model [reconciles] The Science Behind Creation

Barry and Helen Setterfield www.setterfield.org

I. Introduction

There is an almost universal feeling, which is encouraged by secular science, that one must make a choice between science itself and the Bible. However, if the Bible is true then God does not lie, either in His Word or in Creation, and we can confidently follow the data to find out what is being referred to in the creation account of Genesis 1. Thus, seeking out the data should not be a matter of trepidation, but rather of excitement and discovery.

The cosmological model presented today in schools and the media involves the Big Bang and the effects of gravity. The idea is that the universe suddenly expanded from an infinitesimally small bit of something to its present size and is still expanding. This current expansion is concluded from something called the red shift of light from distant galaxies. The formation of these galaxies themselves, as well as stars and planets, is thought to be the result of gravitational forces. This model, however, has incurred enough problems for theorists to find the inventions of such things as dark matter, dark energy, and dark force to be a necessity for the model to work.

If we compare that model to the Bible, we have no problem with the fact that the universe was expanded in the beginning. Twelve times God says He did it. At least that explains where the initial energy came from. However the Bible considers the expansion to be a finished act. This needs to be examined.

If we compare the BB/gravitational model to what we actually see in outer space as well as in our labs, we are confronted with something much different from, and much stronger than, gravity. This is plasma. Plasma is the fourth state of matter, different from gas in that one or more electrons have been stripped off some or all of the atoms. Plasmas are involved with very strong electromagnetic fields. Plasma filaments quickly produce all the forms of matter we see in space without the need for dark anything. This also must be examined.

On the other side of the old-age/young-age arguments is the standard creation model which says the universe is about 6000 years old and that Noah's Flood laid down the vast majority of both the geologic column and the fossils. In order to support this model, a good deal of Egyptian history must be eliminated, the specific layering of fossils explained, and explanations made for some interesting problems in the geologic column. The data points to something other than the standard creation model and time. But, then, so does the Bible.

Then let's examine the data. A lot of effort has been put into trying to get the data to match the Big Bang hypothesis. A lot of effort has been made to try to get the data to fit the standard creation model.

(The following are the section titles in the body of the report.)

II. Plasma, A Zero Point Energy, And The Cosmic Background Radiation

The fabric of space; The origin of the Zero Point Energy; Introducing the initial plasma; Another reason for plasma; The Zero Point Energy and the Redshift; From plasma to neutral atoms; The origin of the Cosmic Microwave Background Radiation; The Zero Point Energy and atomic constants; The atomic age of our galaxy.

II. Forming A Plasma Universe

The origin of the elements; More information from the CMBR (cosmic microwave background radiation); The formation of galaxies; The formation of stars; The formation of planets

III. Dating The Geological Column

The “Snowball Earth” strata; An example from Mars; When did this happen?; The Paleozoic Era; The Permian Extinction; The Mesozoic Era and the K/T extinction; The days of Peleg; Job; Could one flood produce most the geologic column?

IV. Atomic Time And Orbital Time Since Peleg

The speed of light and nearby galaxy groups; From Peleg to the present; The Oscillation Curve; Discerning the behaviour of atomic clocks ; Carbon 14 dating; The oldest living trees; Radiocarbon dates compared with historical dates; Introducing the Sothic Cycle; When the Sothic Cycle began and ended; Results from Egypt; Geological and archaeological summary.

V. Tables

Geological Eras and atomic clock conversions to orbital time; Archaeological Comparisons.

VI. Conclusion

Following the data itself is a strenuous and time-consuming proposition. It is very hard to divest oneself of presuppositions and formerly held theories. However, when this is done, the results can be astonishing, to say the least. The commonly held and taught gravitational model of the Big Bang has presented problem after problem and required the invention of unseen dark matter, force, and energy. Whereas work with plasma filaments has demonstrated that what we see in space exactly matches what happens in the lab.

In like manner, whereas quantum physics is involved with esoteric principles and maths, classical physics, when incorporating what is known and understood about the Zero Point Energy, is more than sufficient to account for known processes.

A number of atomic constants have been declared to be constant, despite years of measurements showing directional trends.

When we go back to the data, and dig out all the actual data available, and see where it leads... While we look to both modern science and its discoveries as well as to the Bible for clues about the past, our aim has been to let the data speak for itself. The results point to the evidence that the Big Bang model is false, and so is the standard creation model. While the universe is quite young, one flood could not and did not result in the geologic column, which does exist, and its associated fossils.

Out beyond earth, we see that space is full of plasma filaments, and we can see how they interact in the lab. We can see that a number of atomic constants have been measured for years as not being constant at all. When we gather all the data available, several conclusions become apparent:

The ZPE-Plasma model allows the formation of a fully functioning universe in a very short time. Scripture says six days. This is completely in line with what the mathematics show. This model allows light to return to Earth from the most distant reaches of the universe in about 8000 years.

The formation of galaxies, stars, and planets is easily explained.

It allows dates from the various forms of atomic clock to be corrected to orbital dates. The resulting geological model shows that the four main Eras of Geology, with the three major catastrophes separating them line up exactly with the four periods in Genesis 1-11, which are separated by the three catastrophes of the Flood, the Babel catastrophe, and the Peleg continental division of Genesis 10:25.

God did not lie in Creation. Nothing in our cosmos was created with the 'appearance of age' and light was not created 'in transit.' God used the very processes He Himself created to form the universe we see today.

Thus, without the need for fancy explanations from either the standard model taught in our universities, or the main creation models, the data is simply and clearly there for those who wish to take note.

Obama Hid North Korea Rocket Component Transfer to Iran

The emet Report - IDF, IDN, BB, WND, Debka, JP, INN, Ynet, TOI, IT, ...

US intelligence officials revealed that during the ongoing Iran nuclear negotiations, North Korea has provided several shipments of advanced missile components to the Islamic regime in violation of UN sanctions - and the US hid the violations from the UN.

The officials, who spoke on Wednesday on condition of anonymity, said more than two shipments of missile parts since last September have been monitored by the US going from North Korea to Iran.

One official detailed that the components included large diameter engines, which could be used to build a long-range missile system, potentially capable of bearing a nuclear warhead.

The information is particularly damaging given that Admiral Bill Gortney, Commander of North American Aerospace Defense Command (NORAD) and US Northern Command (USNORTHCOM), admitted this month that the Pentagon fears that North Korea and possibly Iran can target the US with a nuclear EMP strike.

Critics have pointed out that the nuclear framework deal reached with Iran earlier this month completely avoids this question of Iran's intercontinental ballistic missile (ICBM) program, which would allow it to conduct nuclear strikes.

US President Barack Obama was given details of the shipments in his daily intelligence briefings, but the officials say the information was hidden from the UN by the White House so that it would not take action on the sanctions violations.

A wave of experts came out with criticism against Obama's administration for hiding the missile part transfer from the UN.

"Iran's ballistic missile program has been deliberately left out of the talks even though these missiles are being developed as nuclear weapon delivery systems," noted Fleitz. "Since the administration has overlooked this long list of belligerent and illegal Iranian behavior during the Iran talks, it's no surprise it ignored missile shipments to Iran from North Korea."

China to Build New Nuke Plants in Iran

The Emet Report - AEOI, Fars, WFB, Reuters, IDF, IDN, WND, DN, INN, Ynet, BI, AFP, AP, MEN

Iran announced that China has agreed to assist in the building of five new nuclear plants across the country, according to Iran's Atomic Energy Organization (AEOI).

Iran plans to enlist the Chinese in the construction of five new nuclear plants similar in size and scope to the plant currently operating near Bushehr.

Iran's insistence on building more nuclear power plants has become a key concern for critics of the Obama administration's diplomacy with the Islamic Republic, as these nuclear structures could potentially be used to assist its nuclear weapons program.

The Obama administration has said in the past that the construction of light water reactors such as the one in Bushehr does not violate existing United Nations restrictions or the interim accord struck with the country in 2013.

In addition to the light water reactors, Iran plans to build "small nuclear power plants" around the Persian Gulf area for the reported purpose of desalinating water, Fars reported. "The AEOI plans to build small power plants in the Southern parts of the country for desalination purposes. Construction of such power plants are on the agenda and will be materialized in the next few years," Fars quoted Kamalvandi as saying.

When asked about Iranian efforts to build new nuclear reactors, the State Department has said that this type of work is still permissible under existing agreements.

Turkey provided 10,000 passports to ISIS

The Emet Report - DS, WND, BB, Il, Messaggero, Lignet, IDN, DN, ...

Egypt is accusing Turkey of providing more than 10,000 Turkish passports to members of ISIS, the Islamic State, to facilitate travel of fighters across the region.

An Egyptian intelligence official who asked not to be named said his country delivered a report to the U.S. documenting the astonishing claim. The official further charged that Istanbul is serving as the "headquarters" for ISIS planning. "Turkey continues to allow free passage to Iraq and Syria to IS fighters," the official added. If the Turkish passport charge is true, it would present a worldwide ISIS travel threat.

Already, there have been major passport concerns regarding ISIS and its sympathizers. Earlier this month, a French senate report showed about 47 percent of European jihadists known to have traveled to ISIS-held territory hold French passports.

Scores of British citizens are also known to have joined ISIS. Last month, nine British medical students reportedly traveled to Syria to work in hospitals in areas held by ISIS. In a move that clearly is part of the terrorist group's symbolic creation of a caliphate, ISIS militants themselves reportedly started issuing their own international ISIS passports.

There are concerns ISIS plans to expand beyond the Middle East to Europe. In February, documents released by ISIS supporters and propagandists revealed ISIS is planning to use Libya as a "gateway" to Europe.

YESHUA REMEMBRANCE SERVICE

³¹ "Here, the days are coming," says Y'HoVaH, "when I will make a re-newed Covenant with the house of Isra'el and with the house of Y'udah. ³² It will not be like the covenant I made with their fathers on the day I took them by their hand and brought them out of the land of Egypt; because they, for their part violated My Covenant, even though I, for my part, was a husband to them," says Y'HoVaH. ³³ "For this is the Covenant I will make with the house of Israel after those days," says Y'HoVaH, "I will put My Torah within them and write it on their hearts; I will be their Elohim, and they will be My people. (Yirem'yahu [Jeremiah] 31:31-33)

Leader: "See! Elohim is my salvation; I am confident and unafraid; for Y'HoVaH Elohim is my strength and my song, and He has become my salvation!" (Isa 12:2)

Congregation: Then you will joyfully draw water from the springs of salvation. (Isa 12:3). Victory comes from Y'HoVaH; may Your blessing rest on Your people (Ps 3:8). Y'HoVaH Tzva'ot is with us, our fortress, the Elohim of Ya'akov. (Ps 46:7)

Leader: "Baruch ata Y'HoVaH, Eloheinu Melech Ha'olam, ha motze lechem m'in ha eretz." (divide challah)

Congregation: "Blessed are You Y'HoVaH our Elohim, King of the Universe who has brought forth bread from the earth. Y'HoVaH Tzva'ot, how happy is anyone who trusts in You! (Ps 84:12). Give victory Y'HoVaH! Let the King answer us the day we call. (Ps 20:9) I will take the cup of redemption and call upon the Name, Y'HoVaH. (Ps 116:13)

Leader: (with cup in right hand) "The cup of deliverance I raise and in the Name of Y'HoVaH, Yeshua HaMashiach, I call: Baruch atah Y'HoVaH, Eloheinu Melech, ha'olam, boray p'ri ha'gafen." (Replace cup with spices)

Congregation: Blessed are You, Y'HoVaH our Elohim, King of the universe, who creates the fruit of the vine.

Leader: Lifting spice container in right hand, says... "Baruch atah Y'HoVaH, Eloheinu Melech ha'olam, boray meenee besamim."

Congregation: Blessed are You, Y'HoVaH our Elohim, King of the universe, who creates the various spices.

Leader: As Avram gave to Malki-Tzedek according to B' resheet (Genesis) 14:18-20, let us all come and bring our offering; then take some Chullah; smell the spices; take your cup, return to your seats and wait, so we can partake together.

Leader: Pray in relation to what Yeshua has done in connection with the day's Torah portion. "Let us eat and drink together".

Malachi & Tamar: Aharonic Blessing (see Num 6:22-27). Our Abba and Elohim of our fathers, we thank you for the joy and rest of this Shabbat. May the coming week bring gladness & peace, health & achievement. Like the fragrance of the besamim, we pray that the days ahead bring sweetness to our lives and the lives of our loved ones. May the peace, which we are enjoying linger till we gather for Shabbat next week. We ask this in Yeshua's name, Amein.
